May Co. Slates Show In New Co-Ed Fashions

"Where's the fire?" "It's blazing in the Campus Shop," the girls on the College Board of the May Co. "fire stations" will tell you.

The flames will really be leaping high the week of Aug. 13 through 18, when all of the May Co. stores show fall fashions for college 1962 in the adjacent store parking areas. The blaze will be a traveling fashion show from store to store on two brightly decorated trucks. The girls on the College Board will arrive at each store on a 1923 Stutz fire engine on loan from the Buzza-Cardozo Co.

fashions will come from the pages of the August issue of Seventeen.

In for the fire are the exciting fur-collared sport coats (some of them belted), the wide-wale corduroy separates, and the ever popular bulky sweaters, this year with hoods. The new layered-look, a must for this year, will be featured in its many variations. The hip-riding skirt and fireman's shirt that the College Board wears will be shown. Exciting, new accessories will also be previewed in the blaze.
